Maintaining accurate burial records is a vital public service. The Clarity Cemetery Management application makes it easy for any city to manage burial information.

With tools to manage sold, occupied, and vacant lots, this program will ensure cemetery records are properly utilized. Electronic information and powerful reporting options make it easier than ever to manage cemetery resources and accommodate requests such as finding a number of open plots close together. You can also make genealogical information searchable and more readily available for those who come seeking information about their ancestors buried in the cemetery. See how this easy-to-use software can make the management of your city's cemetery information more efficient.
